

2025 Impact Report

At Sustainable Investments and Alliances for Africa (SIA-Africa), we advance sustainable development initiatives across Africa by matching resources with opportunities. Our global network of partners who want to invest in human and social capital development across the continent are central to our work. In 2025, we developed our partnership network, our outreach capacity, and our on-the-ground impact.

Impact by Partnership

Schools and Academia

SIA-Africa presented a laptop to Nana Fosua, a Junior High School Form 2 student (8th Grade) at Tower Hamlets International School, for her participation in the STEMulating Minds Initiative organized by the Parris Foundation.

Another laptop was presented to Benedicta G, a student at the Achimota School in Accra, Ghana, for her to participate in the 2026 Spring edition of STEMulating Minds Initiative.

SIA-Africa expanded youth sports opportunities in Ghana by coordinating the delivery of soccer equipment to Accra Academy in Accra, Ghana, and various community programs, including the Israel Football team.

Multilateral Governance

In August, SIA-Africa hosted a training webinar on Strategic Communications for African Missions to the United Nations. Volunteer Communications Advisor Michael J. Jordan advised on how missions can deliver messages that resonate in a world filled with so many diplomatic challenges.

2026 Outlook

In 2026, SIA-Africa is excited to scale its impact through facilitating private sector investments for local and national government, civil society, and NGO partners. By strengthening these alliances, the organization will continue to bridge the gap between resources and potential.
